Enormous Further Decline in Stocks.

HAS BOTTOM BEEN REACHED?

Unprecedented Feeling of Confidence in Face of the "Drop."

FRIDAY, Nov. 21—6 P. M. }
To such speculators on 'Change as have been ex poriated by previous stock panics and by experience become used to them the important "dip" in to-day's prices was treated as the very natural reaction day's prices was treated as the very natural reaction to a very absurd advance. To the "lambs," however—as somebody has very appropriately christened the innocents who have been led to speculative slaughter—the tumble in to-day's prices has been death and destruction. They have simply been drawn and quartered, and the financial shambles are full of their remains. The crevice in the buil market, which commenced to widen yesterday, yawned to an alarming extent to-day. Both buils and bears were agreed that a break in prices would be a "good thing," but it a break in prices would be a "good thing," but it sometimes happens that one gets too much of a good thing, and the market got too much of it today. The very reasonable, proper and anticipated set back in prices came, as it was inevitable it would come, but it was pushed to a preposterous extent. The fever heat of the recent speculation could have been as readily cooled down by a drop of ten points as it has been by the overdose of twenty, which in many cases the market since Monday last has been obliged to swallow. In other words, there was a good deal more of a slump in to-day's prices than had been looked for. About ten minutes of the opening hour served to exhaust the strength accumulated at yesterday's close, and from that time on to past meridian the racket was continuous ant. The scramble to get out of Erie, which carried the stock down from 39 to 32%, would have been laughable had it not been so serious a matter to many a holder who had been trapped into buying at the high prices a week ago. In Delaware and Hudson it was pretty much the same thing. There was a panicky dump in price from 74 to 66 and never a sign of support from Mr. Vanderbilt, to whom, as a largely interested stockholder, the street naturally looked for succor. In everything else on enough to sweep away margins if not to create a panic. Prices were down from 2 to 10 per cent, and there throughout the bull herd. The prostration in prices to-day was greatly attributable to orders to sell from country customers which only arrived this morning. Telegraphic wires extending westward being the rural speculative element was not advised of the break in the market until this morning, and consequently were unable to communicate their heir orders to sell to their brokers in this city. When they were able, however, orders to sell came with a rush, as the telegraphic tape between ten and twelve o'clock will testify. Toward this latter hour a manifest change for the better set in. The pressure to sell yielded to a desire to buy, no failures of importance had occurred, money which on the disturbance of loans had rated at 1/4 to per cent bonns fell to plain 7, and the bear attack was apparently over for the present. This feeling was quickly reflected in the market by an upward turn in prices and a restoration of the san-guine feeling which had been so greatly depressed in the morning. The improvement in prices probably averaged 5 per cent, and with this gain and a greatly restored confidence the market closed. Sales at the Board aggregated 662,000 shares,

It is understood that Jay Gould has bought both lots. Other coun-ties in Central Missouri are selling their stock in

In reference to the rumors of the projected conolidation of the Lake Eric and Western Railroad with the Lafayette, Bloomington and Muncie, it is authoritatively stated that a leading banking house in this city holds proxies representing a majority of the entire stock of both roads in favor of the con-solidation. The day fixed for the merger is the 12th of December, when every share of Lafayette is to be exchanged for four shares of Lake Eric and Western,

The markets have been irregular and prices have radically fluctuated during the current week, alternately favoring the buying and selling interest, and showing beyond peradventure that the speculation has been overdone already in some departments, having carried prices away beyond where they ought to be and bringing about an abnormal condition of affairs very injurious, and the influence of which is affairs very injurious, and the influence of which is pernicious. In many instances prices have constantly fluctuated, and there have been no fixed values upon which to base calculations. The general tendency has, nevertheless, been toward a further inflation, and the speculators have full sway, prices in many cases being wholly nominal, with overy probability of material changes at any moment. The volume of mercantite transactions has been large, but especially in those commodities which are chiefly dealt in in a speculative way, where "options" are accounted as among the business of the day. In grain the dealings in "options" have been many, while the actual sales have not been so heavy as usual. Provisions have been quiet, and prices have not radically changed. To-day (Friday) business was fair, and the markets generally firm. On 'Change flour was firm. Wheat and corn were higher. Oats firmer. Whiskey firm. Pork quiet. Lard casy. TRK GRAIN TRADE.

Liverpool., Nov. 21, 1879.

A leading grain circular says:—The grain trade since the commencement of the week has been dult. The majority of the country markets have been inactive, though previous prices were fairly maintained. Cargoes off ceast wore in fair request, at full prices for both home and Continental destinations. Cargoes for arrival were slow of sale. At Liverpool, since Tuesday, there has been only a small business in wheat on the spot at rather lower rates. Corn, in consequence of the increasing shipments, declined 2d. per cental. The tone of today's market was better and most qualities of wheat recovered id. to 2d. per cental from the previous lowest rates. Your was in better demand at former rates. Corn-was less depressed than yesterday, but is still id. per cental lower than on Tuesday."

COOD CLAIMS BOUGHT, OR SPEEDILY AND Thoroughly prosecuted on contingent foes. CAPITALIST, box 118 Herald office. THE HIGHLAND CHIEF MINING COMPANY, OF LEADVILLE, to amicably settle litigation, has consolidated with its organization four of the richest mines of that locality, the Highland Chief, Highland Mary, Robert Burns and Gidroy Aztec, comprising 33 acres—a more valuable property than the Robert E. Lee or Little Pittsburg. Six shafts have been sunk, all in righ gold bearing carbonates; the tunnel header is in forty (40) feet of solid, rich mineral. To consummate the compromise 10,000 shares were placed for sale with Horace Steele, President of the Plainswills (Ohio) Bank, who can be seen at the BANKING OFFICE OF THE MINING RECORD, No. 61 Broadway. A WRIT OF ERROR.

Patrick Nichols, who was sentenced to be hanged on November 28 (Friday next), was yesterday granted a stay of execution and a writ of error by Justice Gilbert, of the Supreme Court of Kings county, upon application of his counsel, Mr. C. Hoffman. The condemned man was tried before man. The condemned man was tried before the Court of Oyer and Terminer in Rockland county in October upon an indictment for murder in the first degree. He alleged victim was one Thomas O'Connell, who was stabled during a quarrel on July 3, 1879. Nichols was convicted before Justice Pratt and Associate Justices, and was sentenced on Thursday, October 16, to suffer the extreme penalty of the law. Several exceptions were taken by the prisoner's counsel on the trial, and upon these exceptions the writ of error has been granted by Judge Gilbert.

STEERAGE PASSENGERS COMPLAIN-ING.

Commissioners of Emigration Starr and Kauffman rat as a committee at Castle Garden yesterday to hear the complaints of several steerage passengers who arrived at this port from Havre by the steamwho arrived at this port from Havre by the steamship Canada, of the French line, on Thursday last. They asserted that the food furnished was of bad quality and that it was insufficient in quantity, and tney claimed that the sexes were mingled promiscuously in the steerage. The Commissioners adjourned the examination until to-day.
